Note on the Theme of the Conference

The theme of the conference is “Crises Across the Criminal Justice Landscape: The Nexus of Governance and Responsibility”. The goal of this year’s theme is to use the 25th Anniversary of the tragic events of 9-11 to look at how criminal justice has changed in the last two decades. This includes the emerging issues facing the criminal justice system, and — most importantly — the responsibility of the criminal justice system in addressing those issues at home and abroad. Because many of the issues criminal justice academics and practitioners are facing no longer stop at national borders, the conference is going to have a strong international as well as domestic focus.

ACJS 2026 Program Topic Areas and Committee Members

Please look through ALL program topic areas prior to your submission to find the one that best fits your paper topic. The submission deadline through the ACJS website is requested by September 26, 2025. The absolute final submission deadline is October 10, 2025.

Updated 06/01/2025

NOTE: All papers presented at the 2026 ACJS Annual Meeting are to be original works never before published, printed, or accepted for presentation elsewhere.

All attendees at the ACJS Annual Meeting shall abide by the ACJS Code of Ethics. A copy of the Code of Ethics can be found on the ACJS website, www.acjs.org.

Program Guidelines

All program participants are required to pre-register for the conference and to provide their own transportation and meeting expenses. Pre-registration will be available at www.acjs.org on the Annual Meeting page of the website.

Abstracts should be submitted only once via the ACJS website. DO NOT SEND ABSTRACTS DIRECTLY TO THE TOPIC AREA CHAIRS. If you have questions about your submission, please send them to the Program Co-Chairs at 2026acjsprogram@gmail.com.

LCD projectors will be available in the meeting rooms. No laptops/computers or overhead projectors will be provided. Additional audio/video equipment is the responsibility of the presenter. Individuals wanting additional equipment must either bring their own equipment to the conference or make arrangements through the ACJS A/V provider (information can be obtained from the Association Manager, manager@acjs.org).

ACJS Program Participation Options

Research Showcase

The Research Showcase is a collection of visual displays of research that encourages informal interaction between authors and audiences. The primary author of a Research Showcase presentation must be in attendance and committed to standing near his or her presentation throughout the allotted session.

Paper Presentations

Panels consist of four or five presenters of written papers and a panel chair. Presenters make formal presentations of completed works. The panel chair opens and closes the session and coordinates questions and comments from the audience.

Student-Authored Paper Panels

Undergraduate and graduate student authors may submit their papers to a regular topical area of their choice where they will present with other faculty and practitioners. However, students have the option to submit their papers for presentation on an all-student panel. These panels are on a variety of topical areas and are designed to facilitate initial presentations in a supportive and welcoming environment. Students who select this option should select "student panel" as their topic area.

Complete Panels

A complete panel consists of coordinating the arrangement of four papers related to a common theme. The person facilitating the complete panel must include a panel chair, panel title, and four–five papers with all supporting information for the papers at the time of submission to the website.

Roundtables

Roundtables are open discussions of a topic, organized by a moderator and four-five discussants with special knowledge or expertise in the topic area. No formal papers are presented. Often the discussion concerns diverse viewpoints or findings in a topic area.

Open Workshop

An open workshop is instructional or interactive in nature but does not require advance registration of attendees. Typically, open workshops involve one or more presenters speaking on more practical educational issues such as seeking extramural research funding, the job search process, developing course syllabi, or entering university administration. Open workshops can also be hands-on experiences that involve the audience as participants (e.g., mock job interviews, victim-offender mediation). An Open Workshop is in a different format than a traditional panel because there are no discussants and no scholarly papers presented.

Other Information

Only original papers that have not been published may be submitted to the Program Committee for presentation consideration. Presentations of the same paper presented elsewhere are discouraged. In addition, please submit only one submission per lead author/presenter. If you are a lead author/presenter on more than one paper, and there is a conflict, the program committee will not be able to make any adjustments to the schedule.

There will be several workshops offered on Tuesday March 3rd. The meetings and panels are Wednesday-Saturday March 4-7, 2026. Sessions will be scheduled Saturday as a regular part of the conference. Sessions may be scheduled at any time during the meetings. ACJS cannot honor personal preferences for the day and time of presentations. If a session does not have a chair, a program committee member may choose a presenter from the last paper on the session. All program participants are expected to register for the meeting. You can go to the ACJS website at <https://www.acjs.org/> to find Annual Meeting information to register online or access a printer-friendly form to fax or return by mail.
